To whom it may concern,

Enza Zaden produces, conditions, warehouses and distributes all of our vegetable seed using good agricultural practices (GAP) and respects all aspects related to field production.

To the best of our knowledge, we provide our customers seed which is:

- Free from pathogens that may cause human health concerns and seed coating, treatments and/or enhancements that are compliant with state and federal regulations.
- Compliant with the applicable provisions of the Federal Seed Act, 7 U.S.C. 1551, et seq. (The "Federal Seed Act"), and the regulation adopted pursuant to the Federal Seed Act.
- Compliant with the applicable provisions of the California Seed Law, 52251, et seq. of the California Food & Agriculture Code (the "California Seed Law" and the regulations adopted pursuant to the California Seed Law.
- Contained in packages labeled with the true measure and contents, within tolerances allowed by applicable federal and state laws and regulations.
- Furnished in compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and other legal requirements.

Enza Zaden declares that all varieties currently released for testing, respectively accepted in trade, have been developed through conventional breeding work, without using genetic modification techniques. If in the future we are going to test or introduce in trade varieties that can be considered genetically modified varieties (GMO's, Genetically Modified Organisms), we will announce that fact.

The employees of Enza Zaden are aware of food safety rules and will apply those when conducting business in our facilities and production fields, specifically:

- Warehouse personnel will practice good hygiene, by sanitizing hands and using latex gloves when pulling samples from close containers for testing purposes.
- Field personnel including but not limited to Product Development and Sales staff will practice good personal hygiene.
- Field personnel will use field toilets when the need arises and wash hands after use.
- Field personnel will refrain from smoking, chewing tobacco, or eating while in the field.
- Only plastic water bottles will be allowed in the field, no glass bottles or containers are allowed.
- No trash will be left in the field.
- No animals or pets are allowed in the field at any time.

Please contact Enza Zaden with any questions you may have on this matter.

Respectfully yours,
